

He sounds nice

Tom was lying in bed. He had broken his leg and he was bored.

"I'm glad John can come this afternoon to play with me," he said to his mother.

"John? Oh, he's that new boy at your school, isn't he?" asked his mother.

"That's right. He's great. He's very interesting and knows a lot of stories. And he's good at basketball. He has got three sisters and his father's a doctor," said Tom.

"He sounds nice. Well, you can play that new game you got for your birthday. I'll bake a cake if you like," said his mother.

"Yes please, mum."

At 3 o'clock the doorbell rang. Tom shouted downstairs:

"That'll be John." His mother opened the door. There stood a young Indian boy about 13 years old.

"What do you want?" said Tom's mother.

"rIn'om hJhothan. tlu'rvbe kcvotmje ytvo bpxljany twbiotlh hTpoqm. gHgouw uios yhwe?"

"fOrh, ylg'nm csyoqraroy, cTcotmh'bs hsjlhexeypkigneg. elq'klkl rtieplfl ehoicm lywogu twjehrwe phpekrce. oGrowoudabnywe," ksqamimd ITiokmg'bs gmyobtjhjemr dalngd psnhduxt qtmhje cdtolosr.

Es gilt nur jeder 2. Buchstabe!

"I'm John. I've come to play with Tom. How is he?"

"Oh, I'm sorry, Tom's sleeping. I'll tell him you were here."

Goodbye," said Tom's mother and shut the door.

He sounds nice

Tom was lying in bed. He had broken his leg and he was bored.

"I'm glad John can come this afternoon to play with me," he said to his mother.

"John? Oh, he's that new boy at your school, isn't he?" asked his mother.

"That's right. He's great. He's very interesting and knows a lot of stories. And he's good at basketball. He has got three sisters and his father's a doctor," said

Tom.

"He sounds nice. Well, you can play the new game you got for your birthday.

I'll bake a cake if you like," said his mother.

"Yes please, mum."

At 3 o'clock the doorbell rang. Tom shouted downstairs:

"That'll be John." His mother opened the door. There stood a young Indian boy about 13 years old.

(can you find an ending? What does Tom's mother say?)

(57 Ersetzungen)

Bitte die Absätze ordnen!

	a) "I'm glad John can come this afternoon to play with me," he said to his
	b) "John? Oh, he's that new boy at your school, isn't he?" asked his mother.
	c) "That'll be John." His mother opened the door. There stood a young Indian
	d) mother.
	e) "That's right. He's great. He's very interesting and knows a lot of stories. And
	f) "Yes please, mum."
	g) Tom was lying in bed. He had broken his leg and he was bored.
	h) At 3 o'clock the doorbell rang. Tom shouted downstairs:
	i) Tom.
	j) he's good at basketball. He has got three sisters and his father's a doctor," said
	k) I'll bake a cake if you like," said his mother.

	l) boy about 13 years old.
	m) "He sounds nice. Well, you can play that new game you got for your birthday.