Dedication¶

TO THE RIGHT HONORABLE HENRY WRIO THESLY, ¶
Earl of Southampton, and Baron of Tichfield. ¶
The love I dedicate to your lordship is without end, whereof this pamphlet, without beginning, is but a superfluous moiety. ¶
5 The warrant I have of your honourable disposition, not the worth of my untutored lines, makes it assured of acceptance. ¶
What I have done is yours, what I have to do is yours, being part in all I have, devoted yours. ¶
Were my worth greater, my duty would show greater, meantime, as it is, it is bound to your lordship. ¶
10 to whom I wish long life, still lengthened with all happiness. ¶
Your lordship's in all duty, ¶
WILLIAM SHAKESPEARE ¶

The Argument¶

Lucius Tarquinius, for his excessive pride surnamed Superbus, after he had caused his own father-in-law Servius Tullius to be cruelly murdered, and, contrary to the Roman laws and customs, not requiring or staying for the people's suffrages, had possessed himself of the lodge by Lucrece at Collatium. The same night he treacherously stealthed into her chamber, violently ravished her, and early in the morning speedily away. Lucrece, in this lamentable plight, hastily dispatcheth messengers, one to Rome for her father, another to the camp for Collatine. They came, the one accompanied with Junius Brutus, the other with Publius
