

Self-Assessment 1: Writing Texts

Before we begin writing texts in English, take a few minutes and think about the following questions:

When it comes to writing texts, my main strengths are:

Things I am not so good at / my weaknesses are:

Have you ever actually worked on improving a text that was not really satisfactory? That is what you are expected to do. You will get feedback on your text from your classmates and you have to proof-read your own text (with special attention paid to your weak points!). With the help of dictionaries and grammar books you should be able to improve the first draft of your text. You go on working like this for the next months and you will see a definite improvement in your performance regarding the writing of texts!
