

Some suggestions for writing exercises (or questions that can be dealt with orally, too):

- 1. Choose two short stories from our collection and compare them with the novel “Slumdog Millionaire” by Vikas Swarup.
- 2. The novel consists of 11 parts which can be read independently. Choose one part that you think suitable to be added to the collection as short story number 12. Explain your choice.
- 3. The novel “Slumdog Millionaire” was easily turned into a major movie. What makes the novel so adaptable?
- 4. Write a review of the novel.
- 5. Write a review of the film.
